10 Avenue, Ashok Nagar

Opposite to ESI Hospital

Sewage overflow

Sewage overflow is not a new issue for the residents of Chennai. This has become a recurring problem in Ashok Nagar, 10th Avenue. The similar situation continued on Sunday from outside of ESI Hospital.

The residents have been complaining about the overflowing sewage on the street when ever it happens. Most of the people living in the area use the street and have been facing the hardship of crossing the filth on almost last Sunday.

'This issue has been prevailing for several months. Despite raising complaints several times, no action has been taken by the officials concerned for a permanent solution. The toll-free number only takes in complaints, but there is no follow-up after that. No major steps are taken to resolve civic concerns', said Kumar, a resident in the area.

The overflowing sewage also poses a health hazard to the people. The residents claim that the area has become very prone to the mosquito menace.

'As the road is situated near a school, shopping complex and residential areas a large number of students and parents walk through this flowing dirt. The stench from this wastewater causes difficulty for the pedestrians and the residents, and the sellers nearby. If not attended to, the situation could turn worse during the rains. Sewage mixing with stagnated rainwater will worsen the situation.

ANPR cameras to be installed soon in major junctions

The Chennai Traffic Police have launched a major initiative to enhance traffic monitoring and enforcement by installing Automatic Number Plate Recognition (ANPR) cameras across key locations in the city.

According to official sources, the department plans to complete the installation of these advanced surveillance cameras within the next two months. A total of 205 ANPR cameras will be set up across nine major roads, including important junctions and busy stretches such as Ashok Pillar.

The move aims to tighten enforcement of traffic rules and reduce violations significantly. ANPR cameras are capable of capturing high-resolution images of vehicle number plates, helping authorities to identify and penalize offenders effectively.

"Cameras will be installed to such an extent that traffic violators will have no way to escape in Chennai," stated the Traffic Police Department.

This step is expected to streamline traffic regulation, improve road safety, and assist in identifying stolen or suspicious vehicles with greater efficiency.

Govt should clean Virugambakkam canal before monsoon

Mudslides have formed in Virugambakkam canal due to the lack of drainage system preventing water from flowing during the rainy season, and there is a risk of flooding.

The Canal, which begins at Nelkundram in the Valasaravakkam zone, passes through Virugambakkam, MMDA Colony, Arumbakkam, Mehta Nagar, and joins the Coovam River across Nelson Manickam Road. This canal, which has a total length of 6.3 km, is under the maintenance of the Water Resources Department.

Due to lack of proper maintenance, the canal is full of plants and vines. As a result, there is no way for water to flow smoothly in the canal, and water rises through the rainwater drain connected to it, flooding residential areas.

Chief Minister M K Stalin has directed civic officials to speed up key civic infrastructure work across 25 municipal corporations and 144 municipalities in view of the approaching northeast monsoon.

At a review meeting on Thursday, Stalin stressed the urgent need to complete stormwater drain desilting, road relaying, underground sewerage, and drinking water projects before the rains begin. He instructed departments including Tangedco, TWAD Board, state highways and local bodies to work in coordination and treat ongoing work in flood-prone areas as a priority. Projects in their final stages must be completed on a war footing, he said.

Officials informed the chief minister that 3,199 new projects were taken up in corporations and 4,972 in municipalities.

Stalin also asked for the timely execution of all work announced in the assembly.

Over the last four years, the govt spent more than 8,000 crore on improving more than 15,000 km of roads. Metro rail, water supply, and stormwater projects were also launched, he said.

Stalin emphasised that solid waste management, street light maintenance, and sanitation services in urban local bodies must be made more efficient. Lowlying and flood prone areas should be addressed first and desilting of drains must be completed to ensure water flows out without obstruction, he said.

Milled road must be given more attention

Road milling is the process of removing part or all of a road's asphalt surface. Recycling of the road surface is one of the main reasons for milling a road surface. Apart from recycling, road milling can also enhance the quality of road surfaces and extend service life, thus improving the driving experience. Removed asphalt can be mixed with other materials and reused, thus it won't be sent to landfills. Motorists are at risk where milling — scooping out the top layer — has been done but roads have not been re-laid immediately because of restrictions imposed by traffic police and shortage of milling machines as in the case of Ellai Muthuamman Kovil Street, Vadapalani is an example.

Many complain that the uneven surface on milled roads without any signage causes accidents especially at night. "We have to be careful riding along these stretches because vehicles with small wheel bases can lose control. The braking effect is also less on such roads, laments motorists. Sources say most contractors don't own milling machines and hire them. Roads have not been re-laid immediately because of restrictions imposed by traffic police and shortage of milling machines.

Multi-standup comedy

Rail Priya, a devoted group of railway staff, established a drama troupe 30 years ago when traditional drama faced significant hurdles due to the emergence of television and increasing travel costs.

Their unwavering passion for bringing new stories to life has inspired them to keep going, even when things became tough.

In their quest to reach audiences, they embraced innovative ideas that were once considered too ambitious for the theatre community.

1. They staged an extraordinary 24-hour marathon drama, beginning at 3 PM and continuing until the next day, sharing many plays in succession, including captivating performances even at midnight.

2. They presented unique plays that celebrated the triple acting of a hero right on stage, showcasing their creative talents.

3. They executed simultaneous performances at two different locations, seamlessly swapping the entire cast after intermission, without missing a beat.

4. They introduced an audience choice system, granting the crowd the power to vote for which play from their repertoire they wanted to see performed, a true testament to their commitment to engagement.

And so on so on....

Now, after three decades in the world of drama, they are actively seeking new ways to connect with the younger generation, who often gravitate towards the charm of short, stand-up comedy. In a recent heartwarming event at IDAM, a quaint auditorium in Kodambakkam with a cosy capacity of 50 to 70 people, Rail Priya joyfully launched their series "Sweet Kaaram Comedy" with the delightful skit "Thummal Ninnu Pochu."

This charming performance filled the room with laughter and left the audience feeling genuinely satisfied and uplifted. Described as a multi-stand-up comedy experience interwoven with a light narrative, it managed to resonate deeply with everyone present. Audience members, who were able to purchase their tickets online, enjoyed a delightful assortment of sweet and spicy snacks as they immersed themselves in the humour of the skit.

One physiotherapist in attendance remarked that he might start recommending tickets to such shows as a therapeutic remedy for his stressed clients, highlighting the remarkable healing power of laughter and creativity.

His heartfelt comment underscores the success of Rail Priya's latest innovative endeavour and shines a light on the many exciting projects they have planned for the future.

Rail Priya troupe can be contacted through 9941403742 / 9444127708.

Stink alert: public urination

A foul smell pervades on the Ramasamy Road, Valasaravakkam, due to people using the road as urinals. This shows the lack of civic sense and respect for public spaces and unhygienic behaviour.

The residents sparked many complaints regarding this matter, yet the situation remains unchanged.

This also highlights a problem of not providing enough public restrooms with proper hygiene. Will the Government make a move regarding this constant issue?

Frequent problems due to 40-year-old sewer pipes not being replaced

Local residents have requested that the sewage and drinking water pipes installed in the Jafferkanpet area 40 years ago be replaced and new ones be constructed.

In areas including Sekhar Nagar - 11 streets; Ethiraj Nagar - 7 streets; Muthurangan Block - 8 streets, which fall under Ward 139 of Jafferkanpet, Kodambakkam Zone, drinking water and sewage pipes were buried 40 years ago.

6-inch pipes were installed according to the population at that time.

As the population has increased, the pipes cannot withstand the pressure of the excess drinking water and sewage flowing through them, causing them to break from time to time.

As a result, incidents of pipes breaking and sewage leaking onto the road, and sewage mixing with drinking water, affecting users, are increasing.

If a complaint is made, the water board digs holes in the roads and repairs pipes. However, a permanent solution to the problem has not been found.

However, due to these works, the road has become bumpy and potholed, causing difficulties for motorists.

Therefore, the local people have requested that the government take steps to replace the sewage pipe in the area and construct a new one.

Pension Adalat

The Senior Superintendent of Post Offices of the Chennai City Central division would be conducting a Pension Adalat at the divisional level on July 28 for pensioners having pension accounts in the 24 post offices located in the city. Pensioners having complaints and suggestions could forward it by post, email or Whatsapp. The pensioners could send their complaints at dochennaicitycentral@indiaipost.gov.in or WhatsApp at 8939646404.

Construction debris piled up in bus stop, passengers irked

Passengers are suffering from the construction waste piled up at the bus stop in Vadapalani. There is a bus stop at the flyover landing point on the 100-foot road in Vadapalani, towards Ashok Nagar.

Buses going to areas including Ashok Nagar, Guindy, and T. Nagar stop here.

Construction debris has been piled up near the passenger shelter seat at this bus stop. As a result, passengers waiting for the bus are unable to use the seat.
