Soundareswarar Temple, Thirupanaiyur

This is the 190th Thevara Paadal Petra Shiva Sthalam and the 73rd Sthalam on the south side of the river Kaveri of Chozha Nadu. This place was called Thalavanam (Palm tree forest), and the temple is called Thalavaneswaram.

In Periyapuram, Sekkizhar records that Thirugnanasambandar came to this temple after worshipping Lord Shiva Thiyagaraja of Thiruvarur. Sundarar came to this temple after worshipping Lord Shiva and got Gold in the form of bricks to celebrate Panguni Uthiram at Thiruvarur with Paravai Nachiyar. Thirugnanasambandar, Sundarar, Manickavasagar, and Vallalar have sung hymns in praise of Lord Shiva of this temple.

Moolavar : Sri Soundareswarar, Sri Azhahyanathar, Sri Thalavaneswarar. Consort : Sri Brukanthanayagi, Sri Periya Nayagi. Some of the important features of this temple are as follows.

The temple faces east with an entrance arch/ Rajagopuram base with stucco images of Rishabarooder at the center. A balipeedam and Rishabam are immediately after the entrance arch. In Koshtam Agasthiyar, Parasara maharishi, Dakshinamurthy, Maha Vishnu, Brahma, and Durgai. In praharam, Thunai Iruntha Vinayagar (for Karikal Chozhan), Martruraitha Vinayagar (similar to Thiruvarur), Subramaniam, Chandikeswarar, Mahalakshmi (Stucco images), Shiva Lingas worshiped by Sapta Rishis, Somaskandar (a different one with fruit in left hand), and Chandikeswarar. A small sannathi of Thalavaneswarar Temple (Sri Panagatteeswarar Temple) is also in the prakaram.

ARCHITECTURE
The main temple consists of the Sanctum sanctorum, antarala, artha mandapam, and a Mukha mandapam. The adhistanam is of prati banda adhistanam with Vrutha kumudam. The Prastaram is with valapi, kapotam, and Viyyalavari. An eka thala dravida Vimanam is over the sanctum.

HISTORY AND INSCRIPTIONS

Since Thirugnanasambandar has sung hymns in praise of Lord Shiva of this temple, the original temple might have existed before the 7th Century. The same was reconstructed as a stone temple during the Chozha period (11th Century) and extended during the Pandya and Vijayanagara periods. It is believed that Karikarchozha was brought up in this place.

There are about 14 inscriptions recorded from this temple. These inscriptions belong to Kulothunga Chozha-I, Rajathi Rajan-II, Sundara Pandyan, Parakrama Pandyan, Rajara Rajan-I, and Rajarajan-II. As per the inscriptions, the place was called Rajendra Chozha Panaiyur, and Lord Shiva was called Panayadiappan, Panagattiraivan, etc.

Vikrama Pandyan's 5th reign year inscription records the endowments of land and house lands gifted to the Adhi Chandeswarar temple.

Sundara Pandya period inscription records that there was a sandhi / kattalai in the name of the king, for naivedyam, 5 veli land was gifted to this temple. This is a copy of the old inscription, and the inscription's last word finishes with Thulyam (copy).

Rajathirajan-II's 10th reign year inscription records the gift of land as irayili to the Azhagu Devar by Chozha Panaiyur NattuKon and Kotramangalamudayan Adalvallen.

Your Stars This Year

Aries : The force of feeling unusually emotional openness might descend upon you. Perhaps the presence of another individual makes you feel secure enough to express what occupies you. Openness can strengthen the bond in a relationship. Emotionally open to at least one human is what is recommended.

Taurus: Some calm time for introspective evaluation of your emotional requirements. Being fulfilled or merely managed? When it comes to dating, don't ignore the red flags just to maintain peace. If you are actually in a relationship, try to have an open dialogue. You don't have to settle for anything less than a half connection.

Gemini: Your heart might be leading you to make a choice that feels emotional but also seems surprisingly practical. Don't always have to follow logic. If you are ending something, starting something, or taking another step into a relationship, allow your emotions to guide.

Cancer: If healing is of importance to you, the week gently reminds you: your softness is still here. You may no longer be able to feel, care for, or love, but you have definitely been taught to guard your heart a little better. Do not hide your gentle nature just because it has been bruised. Your feelings are a blessing, not a curse.

Leo: Instead of engaging in activity, clarity might come to you while staring at the ceiling, thinking about your love life. It could come through a dream or a quiet, still moment that brings you insight. You really don't have to mess around searching for signs. For those of you in relationships, show up in small moments.

Virgo: A moment of honesty might end up moving something casual to a deeper plane. Possibility of being real with someone, or not-so-much; how you say things will matter more than what you're actually saying. If you are dating anyone, don't just assume it's a good fit. A small-hearted truth might bring intimacy.

Libra: Consistency is the main focus this particular week. Sweet things, stain them outside for hours, and then cheapen them with one thoughtless act in an instant. Falling in love or getting to know someone may focus on what people do rather than what they say. Relish the charm if it serves you, but don't ignore.

Scorpio: There is no longer love that you used to feel—and that is a good thing. Observe how your needs, patterns, and desires in love are shifting, so perhaps you no longer chase after intensity and instead seek peace. It's time to express yourself differently. This isn't a jarring change but a gradual evolution.

Sagittarius: It can be fun to fall for the idea of the person. Demands that you notice what is actually there and not what you hope to see. Dating? Take a step back and observe them working on their show. Areas of a relationship where being in denial just to keep things smooth are not good for the heart.

Capricorn: Doesn't have to become a big task. Romance should feel easy if you are with someone or single. No over thinking necessary. Sometimes just appreciating it is enough. If you find yourself constantly managing your feelings or scheduling your experiences.

Aquarius : Attraction in love for you is your self-respect. No need to prove to anyone your worth-stand in it. If somehow one shines a questioning finger on the aspect of your salesmanship, step back. Stand firm through any dating. Clarity and be fair with your partner. Being sincere is far more attractive than any trend.

Pisces: Any minuscule alteration in your speaking style will sow generous results in love. Either speak more clearly about your feelings, or just listen with your whole attention, for your words have power. Pleasant relationship, clear conversations may persuade the partners to loosen the bond of a lingering tension. If you're single, opening your heart.

PREDICTION FOR THIS WEEK
30.11.2025 TO 06.12.2025

Intention: Failure is success turned inside out

'Bhaav pradhaan vishwa rasi raakha, jo jas kare so tas fal caakha' meaning everything is transformed on the basis of feelings. So, we should have good feelings in the mind; it doesn't matter how bad the actions are, the feeling should be good.

Destruction through Shankar is praised. What is his intention to carry out destruction? He has the feeling to bring welfare. It would certainly be good. Be it any action, what is the intention behind performing an action, this is seen. There was dacoit Sultana. He committed robbery in the house of wealthy people. However, whatever he robbed and earned, he distributed them among the poor throughout his life. So, what is the main motive of his life? To help the poor. The intention is certainly good but he didn't find a good way to do it. Nevertheless, as his feelings are good, he doesn't accumulate sinful actions to a greater extent. He belonged to which place? Bijnaur. Jila ek bijnaur hai UP ke darmiyaan, sultana daaku hua bada veer balvaan (There is a district Bijnaur in UP, a great and brave dacoit Sultana lived there). Did he exist or not? Yes. So look, it was said: if the intention is good, the action is also good and if the intention is lowly, the action also becomes lowly.

A Bhilani (tribal woman) gives eaten berries to Ram. She certainly feeds him eaten berries, but what is the intention behind tasting them? Is there the intention to eat them or is there the intention to fill it with sweetness? The actions becomes inful or noble based on the feelings. The same action is performed by two different people but their intention is different. So, the account of sins and merits is formed differently. A tribal boy (bhil) became sharper than even Arjun. Arjun was in fact, studying in palaces. But what about Bhil? He was in the jungle of thorns. So, the one who was in the jungle of thorns became sharper. On what basis? On the basis of feelings. He prepared the idol of his guru. Considering the idol as his guru, he started learning archery. He didn't consider it to be a mere idol; what did he believe? It is living. And as regards Arjun, he was taking knowledge in a palace. He was taking knowledge from a guru in the corporeal form. Whom did he use to consider as his guru? Dronacharya. Similarly, soldiers fight wars; they kill hundreds of people to safeguard their country. Will those who fight a war go to heaven or will they go to hell? What is the belief? If you leave your body in a war, you will go to heaven.

The feelings are the foremost. Actions, neutral actions and wrong actions are made on the basis of feelings. Purity (nirmal) means, it is such a feeling where there isn't the name and trace of dirt. The intention itself is the main thing in this world, no matter how someone's action is, but what is the intention behind that action? If the intention is pure, the result of that action will also be pure. Those who have good feelings, the medicines of the doctor work on them. Those who don't have feelings, even the medicines of the doctors don't work on them. This is why, it was said feeling is a very big thing. The author is solely responsible for this article. SWD works on Amman Kovil Street, road blocked

The stormwater drain (SWD) work on Amman Kovil Street, one of the main roads in West Mambalam. Thousands of people use this road daily it has become a nightmare because of SWD. The work was started recently, the road was dug up to more than five depth and three metre width.

The SWD line is being laid by Greater Chennai Corporation (GCC) after demolishing the existing pipe line throughout the road, resident says that this work had not only affected traffic but also traders. The entry points of the road via Govindan Road to Amman Koil Street have been dug and residents have to go around Jothi Ramalingam Street and are unable to enter the streets. The road is dug up like a trench, but no proper barricades have been fixed. Some ropes have been fastened on the side of the pit. This poses a huge risk to pedestrians and motorists, especially two wheeler riders, said the resident.

So, hundreds of people, especially office-goers, depend heavily on this road as it connects Aranganathan Subway and the city.

Robotic Rehab is well received

The state-of-the-art robotic and virtual reality technology used by patients with paralysis due to stroke and head injury at the K.K. Nagar Government Institute of Rehabilitation Medicine in Chennai, has been well received says Dr. P. Thirunavukkarasu, director of the institute, due to this robotic patients are recovering much faster. He continued that no government hospital in Tamil Nadu has such hi-tech medical infrastructure robotic techniques are used here.

When a stroke or head injury occurs, brain cells are damaged. This disrupts communication between the brain and the rest of the body's nerves, preventing movement of arms and legs. Even if the bleeding, injury, or blockage in the head is repaired, the body's movement, lost from the brain's memory cells, does not return immediately. Rehabilitation is the gradual restoration of that.

When such treatment is given, the brain begins to renew the connection between nerve cells. This is called neuroplasticity. Such treatments were until now provided with the help of conventional medical devices. Now, they are carried out with the help of hi-tech, imported equipment.

EMS (electrical muscle stimulation) training, which stimulates the muscles that are not working in the body, is provided first. After that, electrical vibrations are given to improve the movement of the muscles. For this, a device called electrical myograph stimulation (EMG) has been installed.

A robotic glove is used to train the hand, wrist and fingers. Hand and shoulder recovery training is provided through a robotic device imported from Thailand. There is also a special treadmill device to improve the ability of the legs. A virtual device is attached to the patients' eyes. Then, various games are displayed to his eyes. He has to catch some objects that appear in it using his hands or feet. Hundreds of patients have been benefitted from this robotic rehabilitation.

Multilevel commercial complex planned

In a renewed attempt to ease parking congestion GCC has invited bids to hire a consultant for preparing a Detailed Feasibility Report (DFR) for a proposed multi-level parking-cum-commercial complex. GCC floating proposal for 1,667 sqm plot near Kodambakkam Bridge offering space for 400 plus space for two wheelers and 75 cars.

The initiative comes despite the limited success of the existing multi-level car park (MLCP) on Thanikachalam Road in the same area. Built at a cost of Rs 40.7 crore with capacity for 732 vehicles, including 513 two-wheelers and 222 cars, the utilisation levels have remained suboptimal since its commissioning.

A consultant will determine feasibility based on the land characteristics and demand in T Nagar. The proposal covers both commercial development and a structured parking facility. Once the DFR is completed, tenders for construction will be floated in two months," The project is at an early stage.

Submit SIR forms ahead of Dec 4 deadline

The Greater Chennai Corporation (GCC) has asked voters to submit their filled-in enumeration forms for the Special Intensive Revision (SIR) of electoral rolls well before the December 4 deadline, citing the need to complete data entry on time.

Booth-level officers (BLOs) began distributing the house-to-house verification forms across the 16 Assembly constituencies in the district on November 4.

Since they must collect the filled forms from voters and upload them on the Election Commission's app by December 4, voters have been advised not to wait until the last day.

Residents have been asked to hand over the completed form to the visiting BLA and obtain acknowledgement on the duplicate copy.

Addressing the press, TN Chief Election Officer Archana Patnaik said, "Over 96% of the enumeration forms have been collected so far. Of these, about 33% have been digitised, while another 50% are currently being processed."

Voter help-centres set up at all polling stations will function till November 25 to assist residents to fill the form with guidance from BLOs, who will also visit households directly to collect the completed forms. Officials clarified that Aadhaar or any other document is not mandatory while filling the form.

As per Election Commission guidelines, recognised political parties may also submit the filled-in forms through their appointed booth agents, after obtaining the required signature on the duplicate.

Do you know what the cost of a phone call was in India in 1995?

In today's era, it is unimaginable to live without mobile phones.

In such a situation, it is surprising that the first steps of mobile phones in India were taken only three decades ago.

First call?

The official journey of mobile phones in India began on July 31, 1995.

The then Chief Minister of West Bengal, the late Jyoti Basu, created history by making India's first mobile phone call.

The late West Bengal Chief Minister Jyoti Basu spoke to the then Union Minister of Communications Sukh Ram on the phone using a Nokia mobile phone.

It is noteworthy that this call was connected through Modi Telstra network.

The mobile revolution in India When mobile phones became popular among the public, call charges were very high.

During that period, the cost of a minute of call was Rs. 8.4, and during peak hours, the cost of using the network for a call doubled to Rs. 16.8. This is about Rs. 170 in today's rupees.

But the landscape began to change after Mukesh Ambani's Reliance Jio entered the telecom business in India in 2016.

Jio has revolutionized the telecommunications industry, making mobile calls to any network in India virtually free.

Although standard reasonable rates apply for international calls, the arrival of Jio, India has become one of the few countries with the lowest mobile tariff plans and internet service charges in the world.
